Since this is an on-going conversation and ideas and resources frequently change, I've suggested a list of Google keywords and people to follow rather than concrete resources. I also provided Google key words to the few concrete resources I provided because, let's face it, just providing links on a printed sheet of paper is just mean.

Things to Google:

- Trans microaggressions
- Trans microaggressions photo project
- Transgendered vs. transgender
- What not to say to a trans person
  - Specifically the Everyday Feminism Article – "Here's What's Okay (And Not Okay) to say to a trans person – Once and For All"
- Trans activists of color
- What is AFAB/AMAB/DMAB/DFAB

Tumblr to follow:

- <http://askanonbinary.tumblr.com/>
- Google "The trans champions you should follow on Tumblr"
- <https://www.tumblr.com/tagged/trans-activism>
  - This one is complex. Read this once you've done substantial work around your trans knowledge, because the discussions are complex and there are a lot of opportunities for emotional reactivity.
